Dear Library Patron:

Much is happening behind the scenes at your library.

Your Library Trustees are busy with the creation of the Freehold Carnegie Library Foundation. This entity, a 501(c)(3), will be perfectly positioned to take advantage of certain grants and funding opportunities. Look for more information in the near future.

At the New Jersey Library Conference, I presented at a poster session on those "Little Books" you see around. Did you know there are nearly 30 different ones? (I didn't, until I actually sat down to count them!) These "Little Books" are fun to make and share. If you have an idea or want to collaborate on the next edition, let me know.

And, last but not least, SUMMER IS COMING! That means more programs for children, teens and adults. Our "Big Kid Volunteer" program (grades 4 and up) is accepting registrations. Sign-up by returning the form included with this newsletter ---------->

Or visit our web calendar for links to the form.

We will be adding new programs constantly, so be sure to stay in touch.

Library Trivia

• The worlds's oldest library is St. Catherine's monastery in Sinai, Egypt. Built in the middle of the 6th Century, it houses the second largest collection of religious material in the world (after the Vatican). However, it is accessible onlyl to monks and invited scholars. The Library of Paris, in combination with the National Library of France, is the oldest continually-operating public library service. It dates back to 1368, when it was housed at the Louvre.

• The largest library in the world is the United States' Library of Congress. The collections include more than 36 million books and other print material, 3.5 million recordings, 13.7 million photographs, 5.5 million maps, 6.7 million pieces of sheet music, and 69 million manuscripts. This library is also responsible for the material classification system often found in universities, research institutions and larger libraries. It is apply called the Library of Congress Classification. Many school and public libraries, including the Freehold Public Library, use the famous Dewey Decimal System.

• The most stolen library book is the Bible, followed by the Guiness World Records book. It's ironic that a book that includes a prohibition of stealing is most stolen, and the World Record book holds 2nd place in "most stolen" category, right?

• The smallest library in the world is difficult to judge, because "Little Free Libraries" have grown popular in recent years. Among the smallest are bright yellow dome-like structures scattered around New York City. Each can accommodate one standing person to browse the tiny collection, or escape the noise and bustle of the city for a few moments lost in a book.

Have any interesting library-related facts you'd like to share? Talk to one of the staff at the library!
